Smith of Arizona offered an amendment exempting Arizona from the provisions of the bill, contending that it would prove to be a great hardship to bona fide settlers in that territory.

McCreary of Kentucky inquired whether the gentleman had not received a petition from the bar association of Arizona in favor of the bill.

Smith—That is it. Land grant lawyers will get very rich out of this if the bill passes.

McCreary contended that justice to the people of Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado, as well as justice to the United States government, demanded that private land claims of that territory should be settled. He argued that the pending bill presented the best practicable means of settlement.

Joseph of New Mexico favored the bill [illegible] Mexicans were a unit in advocating its passage.

Symes of Colorado supported the bill as being in the interest of small settlers in his state and the territories mentioned.

[illegible] of Wisconsin opposed the amendment, asserting that in Arizona a most bold, reckless and gigantic scheme of robbery had been attempted in relation to land grants.

An amendment was adopted, reducing from 40 to 20 years the period of continuous occupancy which shall be evidence of title or ownership.

An amendment was adopted giving right of appeal from the department court to the court en banc in all cases.

Smith's amendment exempting Arizona from the provisions of the bill was agreed to, 40 to 29, and the bill as amended was passed, 50 to 4.

The house took recess, evening session to be for the consideration of bills reported from the committee on war claims.

The Immigration Inquiry.

NEW YORK, July 25.—To-day the congressional committee appointed to look into the immigration affairs of the country at large began its work. The first session of the committee opened at the Westminster hotel this morning. Chairman Bond of Michigan and Congressman Morrow of California and Guenther of Wisconsin were the only members of the committee present, but General Spinola and Congressman Oates are expected to arrive to-morrow. The New York commissioners of emigration were none of them present at the opening of this inquiry, nor was anyone else [illegible] to represent Castle Garden.

The first witness to take the chair was E. L. Boas, passenger agent of the Hamburg line of steamers. He was questioned about the manner in which his company transacted its passenger business. He described the company's system of emigration into this country and Europe. Witness said every person buying a ticket had to present a passport showing that he is allowed to emigrate and has not committed any crime. The company, he said, takes great pains to inspect all passengers in order that none shall come over who would not be allowed to land here.

Boas was questioned closely by each of the committeemen on this passport question, and acknowledged that the principal point dwelt upon in the booklet was whether or not the would-be emigrant was liable for military service.

Mr. Cowdy was the second witness examined. The committee devoted special attention to the Mediterranean business done by his company.

Congratulations Cabled.

LINCOLN, July 25.—The following cablegrams were sent by President John Fitzgerald of the Irish National league of America:

LINCOLN, July 25, 1888.

To Right Hon. Wm. E. Gladstone, M. P., London.

The Irish National league of America congratulates yourself and Mrs. Gladstone on the occasion of your golden wedding and wishes both many more happy years, crowned by the triumphs of your policy of justice to Ireland.

[Signed] JOHN FITZGERALD,
President Irish National League of America.

LINCOLN, July 25, 1888.

To John Dillon, M. P., Dublin.

I congratulate you on your release and hope you will live many years in triumph over the murderers who plotted to kill you, as they killed brave John Mandeville.

[Signed] JOHN FITZGERALD,
President Irish National League of America.

Minnesota Prohibitionists.

ST. PAUL, July 25.—The first business before the prohibition convention this morning was the platform, which was adopted substantially as read. The democratic and republican parties are held jointly responsible for liquor crimes. It declares that the announced intention of the republican party to remove from tobacco and intoxicating beverages the internal revenue taxes, without abolishing saloons, and for the purpose of maintaining a high protective tariff upon articles of necessity, would result in cheap whisky and tobacco and high priced clothing, and is opposed to the best interests of the people. Hugh Harrison, of Hennepin county, was nominated for governor by acclamation.

Not the Runaway Couple.

DENVER, July 25.—It was discovered to-day that the man and woman at Idaho Springs, who were taken for Editor Moore and Mrs. Norton, of St. Louis, are "fakes." When the couple discovered whom they were taken for they permitted the people to believe they were the eloping couple, by simply refusing to deny it, and considered it a joke upon the citizens of the Springs. Moore and Mrs. Norton are not at Idaho Springs, and it is very doubtful if they are in the state.

A Reprieve Granted.

DENVER, July 25.—A. W. Sindlinger, attorney for Femmenueli, the Italian who was to have been hung at Buena Vista to-morrow, called upon Governor Adams to-day and asked for a reprieve for his client. After considering the matter the governor signed a reprieve for two weeks. The reason for the governor's action is that the attorney for the condemned was unable to obtain a complete record of the trial in time to present it to the supreme court in application for a new trial.

Bancroftgen's Trial.

ACTORS, Ill., July 25.—The court room to-day was crowded to witness the opening proceedings in the Burlington dynamite conspiracy case. The case of Bancroftgen and Smith was taken up on warrants sworn out on July 11th, charging them with placing dynamite on the C., B. & Q. tracks on June 16th.

CHICAGO DYNAMITER.

[illegible] Bonfield.

He is a G[illegible] Maker of [illegible] Machines.

His Operat[illegible] Important Part.

The Grand Jury Find Indictments for Conspiracy.

Bonfield Gets Another Anarchist.

CHICAGO, July 25.—The drag net of justice dragged to day another of the anarchists who sought revenge upon representatives of the law in the persons of Bonfield, Gary and Grinnell. A gunsmith, named Rudolph Sevic was arrested before daylight this morning and is now behind the prison bars under bonds of $7000. He is charged with being the individual who furnished the dynamite to the conspirators who intended to assassinate the three law officers most prominent in the Haymarket prosecution.

Sevic acknowledges that he has been illegally dealing in dynamite, and that he has sold over fifty pounds of the explosive to various people, [illegible] He will only admit having sold ten pounds to Chicagoans and asserts that he either never knew or cannot remember who they were.

Inspector Bonfield says he has proof that ten pounds if not more, went to the anarchists Hronek, Chapek and Cielburn.

It is definitely known that Sevic bought, on May 26, from the American Powder company in Chicago, twenty-five pounds of dynamite. It is ten pounds of this purchase that has been traced to the recently arrested trio of assassins. Sevic claims ten pounds of the twenty-five went to a farmer in Nebraska. On the third day of June he purchased twenty-five pounds more, which he claims to have sold to a farmer in Minnesota, but is unable to give his name or locale him.

Inspector Bonfield is positive that Sevic was in league with the three dynamiters arrested a few days ago, and sold them the explosive with which they expected to destroy Judges Grinnell and Gary. Sevic is a Bohemian, 28 years old, and of intelligent appearance. Inspector Bonfield last night also captured several infernal machines. They are of tin, about five inches in height, of cylinder shape, and 2½ inches in diameter. Inside of these cylinders are others of equal height about an inch in diameter. The inside cylinders are filled with dynamite, and between them and the outside covering the space is filled with broken glass, nut screws and broken iron. In the tops of the cylinders fulminating caps are placed, with fuses attached. Inspector Bonfield will not say whether or not these machines were found in Sevic's house.

Sevic's arrest was kept secret until the moment when he was arraigned in court this morning. Meantime he had been subjected to vigorous pumping by Inspector Bonfield. The proceedings in court occupied but five minutes and consisted of simply putting the case on record and fixing a bond heavy enough to hold the gunsmith, and continuing further proceedings for a week. The grand jury already impanelled to take up the case of Sevic's alleged conspirators will long before that time, it is expected, have indicted all concerned in the diabolical plot.

The police say the discovery of the bombs, which are doubtless Sevic's handiwork, is an important link in the chain of evidence against Hronek, Chapek and Cielburn. The bombs were the invention of Hronek, and their manufacture by a particular gunsmith goes far to show a deep laid conspiracy. It is thought by the police that many of the bombs are in existence, as there is no probable theory to explain the use of the large quantities of dynamite handled by the Bohemian gunsmith. Bonfield says the bombs are of such a devilish pattern that one would be sufficient to kill fifty men.

This afternoon Sevic was carried, with Hronek, Chapek and Cielburn before the grand jury, who immediately took up the case. The proceedings were guarded with the utmost jealousy. The first half hour was occupied by Inspector Bonfield in unfolding to the jury the details of the conspiracy.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Indictments for conspiracy to commit murder were found by the grand jury to day against the four anarchist conspirators. In the morning Capt. Bonfield was on hand with the informer, Frank Cielburn. Other witnesses were present but Cielburn was the most important for the state. His story was a complete confession of the plot, and he also told of the visit to Grinnell's and Gary's houses on July 3d and 4th. The state has his confession in full, and it is expected the evidence against the other conspirators is so complete as to warrant conviction.

The Consolidation of Railroad Men.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., July 25.—Consideration of the proposition looking toward an adjustment of the difficulty with the Burlington road occupied this morning's session of the great convention of railroad employes now meeting here. Great pressure, it is understood, was brought to bear on the hot heads by the more conservative element to waive the 4½ and 4 cents a mile schedule and the classification clause. Chief Sargent left for Chicago, where he claims to have been called by urgent business. It is certain that neither Monaghan, Sargent, Wilkinson nor Arthur, the heads of the four organizations, will take part in the convention. Hoge and Murphy were expected here this morning, but did not make their appearance.

ST. JOSEPH, MO., July 25.—At the conclusion of to-day's session of the engineers and firemen's convention, it was announced that a resolution had been unanimously adopted refusing the Burlington road's conditions, and declaring that the road must take back all the strikers or none. This means that the situation to-day is just as it was before the efforts at a compromise were made. It is stated that a plan of federation of the engineers', firemen's, switchmen's and brakemen's brotherhoods was endorsed by the meeting and arrangements are making to carry it into effect. Each of the four brotherhoods will hold a convention between now and October to consider the matter. The first one to meet will adopt a federation clause in the constitution, which will be accepted by the other conventions at [illegible] when their work is [illegible] grand advisory board [illegible] to be made up of [illegible] the four organizations [illegible] business of the board to [illegible] difficulties that cannot be adjusted by the grievance committees. In such cases the chiefs of the [illegible] will be called in. The [illegible] arranged for financial [illegible] Q. railroad.

The Freight Rate War.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Yesterday was [illegible] of disastrous of the west[illegible] freight rates. The Atchison & Alton in making [illegible] 70 and 72 cents per 100 [illegible] and cotton piece [illegible] from New York to [illegible] cents via all-rail lines [illegible] comment. What is perhaps the most decided evidence of a demoralized condition of the rate war is the fact that yesterday tariff rates to Salt Lake and all other common Utah points declined on all roads. The rates formerly stood: from Missouri river points, on first class $2.25, second $2, third class $1.75, fourth $1.50, fifth $1.30, sixth $1.25, A $1, B 90, C 80, D 70. These rates were suddenly without warning reduced as follows: 1st class $2.00, 2d $1.80, 3d $1.75, 4th $1.60, 5th $1.45, 6th $1.05, A 92, B 82, C 72, D 62.

This is the first time during the present freight rate war that rates have been affected further west than the Missouri river, except to Colorado points, but it is evident that the reduction in Utah rates is in direct connection with the rates of cutting of lines to Missouri river points from this city and Chicago. This is regarded as the forerunner of a reduction in transcontinental rates to California and Oregon points. There has been no apparent effort thus far on the part of any line to restore rates except [illegible] The withdrawal of the New York, Ontario and Western road from the trunk line passenger association yesterday makes the situation more complicated than ever.

NEW YORK, July 26.—From the Tribune: There was more cutting in westbound freight rates yesterday. A rumor was circulated that the Union Pacific company had entered into a preferential arrangement with the Cromwell Steamship line for shipment via New Orleans to points on their road in Utah at rates which were 25 cents lower than other lines. Officials of the Cromwell line admitted that they had got into Utah territory of the Union Pacific, but denied a 25 cent cut under other lines.

The Deep Water Convention.

DENVER, July 25.—The committee appointed by the chamber of commerce to-day waited on Governor Adams regarding the calling of a deep water convention. Governor Adams entered into conversation with the committee, during which he said he would do anything within his power to assist in the enterprise, and signified a hearty co-operation. He promised that he would give it his immediate attention and call the convention at the earliest convenient. Governor Adams said he had taken a trip on the coast but he thought a deep water harbor at any point on the Texas coast would insure a great city as there was the whole of Old Mexico at the back of it. The committee notified the governor that they had amended the report some, in that the delegates to be appointed by the chairman of the board of county commissioners, and the representation of any commercial body shall be five instead of two, also that an equal number of alternates be appointed with the delegates by their authority. California, Oregon, Washington and Indian territories were also added to the list of districts to be included in the representation.

An Irish M. P. Arrested.

LONDON, July 25.—James J. O'Kelly, the well-known journalist and member of parliament for the north division of Roscommon, was arrested in this city last night for alleged offences under the so called Irish "crimes act." The warrant for his arrest charged him with making speeches in Ireland inciting to intimidation and "boycotting." O'Kelly, under escort of police, left for Dublin on an early train this morning. The charges against O'Kelly are based on utterances in a speech at the recent election in south division of Longford, which resulted in the return of Fitzgerald (Parnellite) to the house of commons. It is expected that Fitzgerald and also Mr. Leamy, the newly elected member of parliament for South Sligo, will be arrested in addition to O'Kelly.

Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The opening of the stock market was firm and moderately bullish in temper, that prices being generally higher. Weakness was developed immediately, however, with Reading in the lead. Declines of nearly one per cent were established in the general list during the first hour. The market improved in tone after that time, with the exception of Lake Shore and Ft. W. & D. Government bonds were dull and steady.

Parson, of this city, has invented and applied for a patent upon an apparatus that will put an end to wars, or entirely revolutionize the present system of warfare. He has received correspondence upon the subject from the war departments of both the United States and Germany. He will at once visit the United States war department at Washington and present a model showing the workings of the arbitrator, afterwards going to Europe to secure patents.

Raised by Gambling.

DENVER, July 25.—Only $250 was stolen from the safe in the surveyor-general's office, instead of $2000, as at first reported. The man accused of the theft is Wm. H. Hudson, the draughting clerk, who left the city a few days ago and whose whereabouts is not known. Gambling is supposed to be the cause which led to the theft.

DISORDERLY SCENES.

Eastonville Village the Scene of a Drunken Riot.

A Disreputable Place the Cause of the Disturbance.

Revolvers Freely Discharged and the Public Safety Jeopardized.

Further Trouble Prevented by the Arrest of a Saloon Keeper.

Ever since grading began on the Rock Island railroad near Eastonville the law abiding citizens of that place have been greatly annoyed by the acts and presence of a man who established a saloon in the village, which soon became the resort of all the hard characters in the neighborhood. The old saloon, which was the scene and cause of a number of tragedies, was closed last winter, and the village enjoyed a short period of peace and quiet.

A man arrived in Eastonville last April who opened a saloon in a tent, and the daily orgies which had disturbed the place were at once renewed. At last the citizens determined to close the saloon, and notified the proprietor accordingly. He still persisted in keeping the place open but one night it took fire and burned to the ground. The owner of the saloon was quite indignant over his loss, and communicated with the sheriff with a view to having the affair investigated. But as he had openly violated the law in selling liquor in less quantity than a quart, he soon learned that the best course for him to pursue was to take no further steps in the matter.

When the grading camps on the Rock Island were established near Eastonville, two saloons were opened in the village, one of which soon became the scene of drunken fights and brawls. On Sundays the village was filled with improvised men who literally took possession of the place. Last Sunday the crisis was reached, and the law abiding citizens arose to the emergency of the occasion. Last week the proprietor of the saloon came to Colorado City and took two disreputable women back with him.

On Saturday night the village assumed a carmine hue. Men came in from the grading camps, who soon obtained a plentiful supply of the poisonous article sold in the saloon. Revolvers were brought into active life in the saloon, and the fusillade continued throughout the night. Fortunately no person was injured, though an empty freight car was riddled with bullets. On Sunday the disorderly scenes of the previous night were repeated. Drunken men walked through the village firing their pistols in every direction, and the citizens became alarmed for their own safety and that of their families.

The residents of the place determined to prevent any further annoyance from that source, and on Monday morning the man and the two women were arrested by Deputy Sheriff J. J. Eubanks.

Their preliminary examination was held before Justice of the Peace A. B. Whitmore on Tuesday, and all were bound over to the district court. There are four charges against the saloon keeper, one of which is selling liquor in violation of the state law.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ELECTION.

Mr. C. B. Ferrin Elected Chief by a Large Majority.

Notwithstanding the disagreeable weather, considerable interest was manifested in the election of a successor to Chief Draper of the fire department, which was held last evening. As this was the first election held under the new ordinance, there was some curiosity as to how the "popular vote system" would succeed. As far as could be learned, it gave complete satisfaction and the election passed off quietly and without disturbance. There were two candidates for the office, ex-Chief Ferrin, and the present first assistant chief, J. F. Pearce. The friends of both candidates turned out in force, and worked earnestly for the success of their favorite.

The ballot box was in charge of the following board of judges:

M. E. Irving, of the Hooks, Augustus House, of the Matt. France, C. B. Seldomridge, of the Crowells, Clarence Arnold, of the College, and F. A. Mangold, of the Jacksons.

Balloting began at half-past seven o'clock, and promptly at ten o'clock the polls were declared closed.

Out of a total registration of 167, 114 votes were polled. The vote was distributed among the various companies as follows:

Hooks 33, College 19, Crowells 20, France 20, Jacksons 22.

The election resulted in the success of Mr. Ferrin by the following vote:

Ferrin	73
Pearce	41
Ferrin's majority	32

[illegible]

The Democratic party has been [illegible] free whiskey plank [illegible] to the platform. Among the many [illegible] was especially attracted by a car of pigs consisting of five or six dozen [illegible] with white hair which covered them [illegible] Mr. Blaine in his [illegible] of November [illegible] the state of [illegible] the railway carriage at this moment [illegible] why that is the living picture of King Louis Philippe. I was struck by the likeness and stood gazing at that [illegible] on its way to the east.

As I left the station I noticed two [illegible] standing at the entrance, with [illegible] blue livered lackies for the [illegible] saw the two gentlemen who had [illegible] rounded the lady mount and drive off [illegible] spring day, I not [illegible] carriages before the same station and [illegible] the same gentlemen in attendance. In their midst was a pretty young lady holding a large bouquet. The train rolled into the station. It was again the Orient express but this time it was coming from the east. The striking lady with the royal physiognomy was on board. I saw her step out on to the platform the same that she had left in November. This time she appeared neither bowed nor weary. There she stood as one straight as an arrow notwithstanding the weight of her seventy two years. I now perceived that I had before me Princess Clementine of Coburg Orleans who had left Vienna in November for Sofia filled with the greatest apprehensions and worried with the most trying cares concerning the future of the throne of her son but who returned in May filled with the satisfaction of having consolidated that throne built by her own hands and happy at having left her Ferdinand a favorite with his Bulgarian subjects the object of ovations and triumphs when it was generally believed that she would be obliged to bring him back with her a fugitive from the land he might not rule.

Like all the children of the last king of the French which was himself built in many things Princess Clementine [illegible] first at the Palais Royal and afterwards in the Tuileries a very careful and [illegible] education. She studied in fact the same lessons as her brothers the Princes d'Orleans et de Joinville and the Dukes d'Aumale, de Nemours and de Montpensier.

When later her brothers joined the Army in Africa in order to study the science of war the princess acted as her royal father's private secretary and was thus on the threshold of womanhood initiated into affairs of state and into the intricacies of diplomacy. Who can tell the value that this training has been to her during the difficult role that she has been playing in the Orient.

To go back to the days of Louis Philippe. The young woman was interrupted in her study of practical politics in which by the way she displayed remarkable talent by her marriage with the Duke of Saxe Coburg Kohary the possessor of an enormous amount of real estate on the others side of the Danube.

Duke Augustus was a man of very simple habits notwithstanding his wealth, and only asked to be allowed to enjoy his fortune whose admiration was his special attraction. He cared nothing about politics much to the regret of his active wife who loved to play a part in public affairs.

It is the truth to say of her [illegible] followed down to the [illegible] She kept up a [illegible] with remarkable [illegible] and early every [illegible] a very [illegible] up [illegible] a witty academic [illegible] [illegible] Princess Clementine [illegible] [illegible] Vienna [illegible] [illegible] Prince Ferdinand [illegible] [illegible] Austrian cavalry [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

T. W. SMITHWOOD, Signal Corps.

A gang of sneak thieves seem to be at work in the city.

Dr. Chamberlain and wife will leave for a brief visit to the east on Saturday.

The Firemen's band will give open air concerts in the city park this and to-morrow evening.

There are undelivered telegrams at the Western Union telegraph office for Jas Pourtales, M. B. Leyis and Simon Levy, jr.

The ladies of the Christian church will give an ice cream and berry social at the [illegible] this evening.

The excursion train to Eleven Mile Cañon will leave the depot on East Pike's Peak avenue promptly at nine o'clock this morning.

The police magistrate fined a colored man $5 and costs yesterday for beating his wife, and another man $1 and costs for leaving his horse unhitched.

County Clerk Eaton has prepared a circular giving the boundaries of all the election precincts in the county, which will be forwarded to all the judges and clerks of election.

The plans presented by Messrs. Pease & Barber for the new addition to the Garfield school have been approved. The addition will consist of four new rooms 26x32 feet.

[illegible] Friday [illegible] Parkinson's [illegible] will produce their celebrated burlesque on the comic opera "Ermine" entitled "One Minute," with the popular comedian Billy Rice as Minnie.

The proprietor of the Cascade hotel tendered a hop to the Chicago excursionists last evening. The party returned from a trip over the Midland yesterday afternoon, and will leave for Denver this morning.

Dr. Mary E. Bryan, of Philadelphia, has located in this city at No. 1154 S. Weber street, and will engage in the practice of her profession. She is a graduate of the Woman's Medical college of Philadelphia and was a resident surgeon at the Woman's hospital of that city for a year.

Messrs. C. W. Collins and William Ashby have arranged for a grand public excursion to Green Mountain Falls on August 15th. The day will be given up to various sports including a base ball game between Ashby's Giants and the Fairfield Blues. The train will return by moonlight, and the festivities will conclude with a dance in the pavilion.

Rev. Father Malone will deliver a lecture on America at St. Ann's Catholic church next Sunday evening, to which the public are cordially invited. Father Malone was the principal speaker at the public meeting recently held in Denver for the benefit of the disabled soldiers' home and delivered the lecture on that occasion. It was very highly spoken of by all who heard it.

Manager Ford, of the Colorado Springs base ball club, has arranged a game with the Zacatecas club for next Saturday afternoon. The Zacatecas club is the strongest amateur nine in Denver and now leads the league of that city. At their last visit to the city they defeated the Colorado Springs boys, but the admirers of the latter are confident that they will redeem themselves next Saturday.

Large audiences continue to witness the electric clock exhibition. This wonderful masterpiece of mechanism will only remain a short time. Those who contemplate seeing it should go at once. Friday afternoon the pupils of the public schools are invited. A lesson in astronomy, horology and electricity will be given. Every child will receive a present from the glass blowers. Saturday [illegible] Thursday.

Bill Nye, in speaking of Dockstader's minstrels, who will appear at the opera house to-morrow and Saturday evenings, says: "The menu of melody and merriment at Dockstader's last evening opened out with an overture by the entire company clothed in full dress, with black satin knickerbockers and black hose; that is, the company, not the overture. Mr. Lew Dockstader sang a topical song entitled: "I Doubt if It Ever Occurs," and Mr. Dockstader was kept busy adding on new verses until he was tired. Along about this time Messrs. Dockstader, Rice and Moore drifted into the direction of kissing, and Mr. Dockstader alluded to the act in a way calculated to call attention to General William T. Sherman, who sat in the off box within ten inches of the end man. The able and eloquent warrior blushed a bright pink from the top of his large, rectangular head to the roots of his reddish gray whiskers. Mr. Jose then sang an alto song, called "The Song that Reached my Heart." It was a touchful song and several big strong men went out to shed a tear after it was over. They [illegible] eating pop corn and in time to hear a bass solo by Mr. Frillman, who has a wonderful command of the lower notes. Mr. Rice then obliged with a vocal monologue, assisted by his voice, entitled "The Romance of Love." It was funny and a great many people were heard to smile in a sincere way that compelled Mr. Rice to compose some more songs. It was a rare treat to see the great comedian think. Then there was a tenor solo by Mr. Rieger, and a Pneumatic railway sketch, a harp solo by James Blamphin, a take off on pugilism, "Tootsie Wootsie" song by Mr. Dockstader, more music on a dark blue xylophone and afterwards the Wagnerian opera burlesque entitled "Zum Wagoner," concluding with a ballet. This ballet is not calculated to do great injury to the morals of our young and growing city, in the first place, men do not succeed as well as ballet girls for they forget themselves and lay aside all reserve; some of this ballet are also quite plain. Over a thousand people take part in the opera, including the audience. Anyone who sees this show will go away convinced that they have seen the best minstrel show in the country."
